Mark your calendars - the 34th Annual SOAR Conference is back on November 3rd, 2022!

This year's virtual conference, "Changing Tides: The Ebb and Flow of Administrative Justice" will focus on the ways that administrative justice has and continues to change. We will explore pressing topics, such as how the diverse identities of participants in administrative justice should impact adjudication and representation, how decisions can be written in a culturally competent way, and how we can build resilience as we assess and appreciate the significant impact of the pandemic on professional relationships and mental health. Join the dialogue as we reflect on where we are, where we started, and where we strive to be! The Conference will run from 9:00am to 3:00pm with the opportunity to participate in real time, chat with peers and ask questions.

Our CONCURRENT WORKSHOPS and PLENARIES, eligible for EDI and Professionalism Hours, include:

All the Fish in the Sea: Navigating Questions of Identity in Administrative Justice

How to SEA through the noise: Culturally Competent Decision-Writing

Swimming with the Sharks: Navigating Incivility and Harassment in Administrative Proceedings

GONE PHISHING: Casting a Net on Privacy and Security

Admin Law Deep Dive

Staying Afloat: Resiliency in Turbulent Waters
